Customized living provider standards/qualifications

Licensure requirements and other state regulations for customized living services clearly distinguish these services/settings from institutional licensure or regulations.

Customized Living settings must have an Assisted Living license through the MN Department of Health and meet all of the requirements and standards of the Assisted Living licensure, Minn. Stat. 144G or meet an exemption under Mn Statute 256S.20 Subdivision 1. Customized Living services provide an individualized package of regularly scheduled health-related and supportive services provided to a person who resides in a qualified setting with an assisted living license.

Customized living service definitions that support the setting requirements

Customized living (CL) and 24-hour CL services include component services designed to meet the person's assessed needs and goals. Individualized CL services may include supervision, home care aide tasks (e.g., assistance with activities of daily living), home health aide task_(e.g., delegated nursing tasks), home management tasks, meal preparation and service, socialization, assisting enrollees with arranging meetings and appointments, assisting with money management, assisting participants with scheduling medical and social services, and arranging for or providing transportation. If socialization is provided, it must be part of the service plan, related to established goals and outcomes and not diversional or recreational in nature.

For more details about the component services, including what is covered and distinctions between each see the following resource on the CBSM:

Minnesota's Community Based Services Manual (CBSM) provides the following requirements for customized living services:

Meaningful distinction between the facility and HCBS setting

States must submit strong evidence that the setting presumed institutional has the characteristics of a HCBS setting and not an institutional setting.

HCBS characteristics

This section is a summary of the individual HCBS characteristics required in the HCBS rule. The findings for each characteristic are identified through the setting documentation, on-site observations, and interviews.

HCBS Rule requirement	Compliance determination
The setting is selected by the individual from among a variety of setting options including non-disability specific settings. Validation methods: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li><input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Interview(s) with residents.</li> <li><input checked="" type="checkbox"/> MnCHOICES support plan requirements: In the “What I Want my Life to Look Like” section of the support plan, using person-centered principles, the case manager/care coordinator must describe the person’s choice about housing. The case manager/care coordinator must have a conversation with the person for each of the statements on the signature sheet to ensure they understand what they are agreeing to and have the necessary information to make an informed choice. The case manager/care coordinator selects yes or no for each statement. If the person answers ‘no’ the case manager/care coordinator must review the content again in another format or discuss further with the person.</li> <li><input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Health plan and Lead Agency Review support plan audits: As required under Mn Statute 256B.0911, Subd. 29, “The written support plan must include:(d) (2) the individual's options and choices to meet identified needs, including all available options for: (iii) living arrangements; (v) service provided in a non-disability-specific setting;”</li> </ul> Narrative: Case managers are required under State statute to offer and document all available options for living arrangements in the person’s support plan. Confirmation of this requirement was validated through interviews with residents at this setting. When interviewed, the residents said they were given options on where to live. Several reported that they chose this setting to be near their families.	Compliant

Validation methods:

- Interview(s) with administrative staff.
- Interview(s) with residents.
- Review of setting's policy and procedure
- Observation of residents' units during on-site visit
- State license requirements: As required under MN Statute 144G.91, "Residents have the right to furnish and decorate the resident's unit within the terms of the assisted living contract."

Narrative:

Setting's policy/procedure is compliant. Living units observed during the site visit were decorated according to the residents' tastes and preferences, including family pictures. Personalized decorations were observed in the entrance to living units. Administration reported that people are allowed/encouraged to bring their personal decorations and furniture from home to decorate their units. Residents confirmed that decorations and furniture were their personal belongings, and they were able to decorate the unit as desired. Staff are trained annually on the HCBS rule including this right.

Validation methods:

- Interview(s) with administrative staff.
- Interview(s) with residents.
- Review of setting's policy and procedure
- State license requirements: As required under MN Statute 144G.91, "Residents have the right to individual autonomy, initiative, and independence in making life choices, including establishing a daily schedule and choosing with whom to interact."

Narrative:

Setting's policy/procedure is compliant. The resident handbook states that the setting encourages residents to participate in developing their plans and to make decisions about how they want to live. Staff said they respect people's right to make their own choices, and they will try to work with them to schedule or reschedule services as needed. Residents interviewed said they could choose what they wanted to do each day. One resident said "I don't feel like I have to do something just because it's scheduled. Staff are good at listening to us about why we don't feel like doing something". The setting has a very effective method of making sure all staff know about changes to people's supports as soon as possible. When staff start their shift, they start the tablet and log in and it tells them any information they need to know about each resident, and they can do their trainings on that same tablet. The front bulletin board has a calendar of activities that the setting arranges. It also had information on other things going on around town.

- Validated through interview(s) with residents.
- Validated through review of setting's policy and procedure.
- Observation made of people coming and going during on-site visit.
- Validated through state license requirements: As required under MN Statute 144G.91, "Residents have the right to meet with or receive visits at any time by the resident's family, guardian, conservator, health care agent, attorney, advocate, or religious or social work counselor, or any person of the resident's choosing. This right may be restricted in certain circumstances if necessary for the resident's health and safety and if documented in the resident's service plan. (See Rights Modification section)

Narrative:

Setting's policy/procedure is compliant. Administration and direct care staff confirmed during interviews that the setting does not restrict visiting times or who people can visit with. When the residents were interviewed regarding any restrictions to who could visit or when, they answered that they didn't have any rules around visitors. Residents can visit with their friends/family in privacy in their own units or in any shared space within the building. Per the resident handbook and the annual staff training, overnight guests are welcome as well. Visitors were observed coming and going from the building and visiting with residents. The sign in sheet shows a lot of different people coming to and leaving the building.

Narrative:

Setting's policy/procedure is compliant. Administrative and direct support staff report the setting is fully accessible to the residents. Accommodations such as grab bars, shower chairs, wheelchair accessible kitchen bathrooms are available to residents. Residents report they are able to use and access all areas of their unit and shared spaces within the building. Wide, accessible halls were observed and grab bars were observed in people's homes. People were observed navigating the setting without any issues.

Residents are encouraged at any time to voice their preferences about community events they would like to attend to staff. The residents also hold their own resident council meetings, without staff present. Staff are given minutes to read so they can see the outcomes of any conversations about community experiences the residents would like to have. Staff run a monthly tenant meeting and get input that way as well. Staff also get input from residents' families during their Family Council meetings, which may include ideas for new experiences. Residents are given a monthly calendar of events they can choose from. Residents have resources to assist them in accessing the community. Administrative and direct support staff report transportation options are available, and staff help them set up their rides if needed. The residents interviewed reported having their own doctors that aren't part of the St. Benedicts campus.

Residents leave the building often with family or friends to attend family gatherings such as weddings, birthdays, graduations, and baby showers. Some people still drive and leave almost every day. One resident leaves each week to have "beer with a friend" at a local pub. Another resident takes her friends who live there out to buy snacks. The setting offers on-site activities as well. They have religious services, Bingo, board and card games, exercise, crafts, and birthday parties. In addition to the scheduled activities, they have a space designated for people who want to play a game or do an activity independently.

One resident I spoke to said, “When an ambulance comes here, we all want to know what happened, but staff will never tell us and say they have to protect that person’s privacy”. Another resident reported feeling that their privacy is respected by staff. One of the people who receives a lot of personal cares said the staff are very good about making sure they do them in a proper area, and don’t talk about the personal care needs around other people. All residents interviewed said staff knock before coming into their homes and staff were observed knocking before entering a person’s home. - Review of setting’s policy and procedure
- Observation during on-site visit
- State license requirements: As required under MN Statute 144G.91, "Residents have the right to be treated with courtesy and respect, and to have the resident's property treated with respect."

Narrative:

Setting’s policy/procedure is compliant. Administrative and direct support staff report the setting ensures residents are treated with dignity and respect. A staff person said that is a “big part of their training”. The Administrative staff said that is part of their mission. When interviewing a resident regarding if they feel staff treat them with respect they said, “Definitely”. Observed interactions between staff and residents were very respectful. Staff got down to eye level with a person who uses a wheelchair while they were talking. They also have information on the Ecumen Integrity line, which residents can use if they feel something has happened that they don’t think is right.

The facility must establish and implement a written procedure to ensure that all cases of suspected maltreatment are reported. And, Mn Statue 144G.63, “proper orientation and annual training is given to staff on the Vulnerable Adults Act, as well as the Assisted Living Bill of Rights and staff responsibilities related to ensuring the exercise and protection of those rights.” Mn Rule 9555.7200 Subp.2, "Abuse" means: the intentional and nontherapeutic infliction of physical pain or injury, or any persistent course of conduct intended to produce mental or emotional distress”. The Elderly Waiver plan states, customized living services must, “Ensure that participants are treated with dignity and respect and are free from coercion and restraint.”</li> </ul> Narrative: Setting’s policy/procedure is compliant. Both the staff and the residents receive the Assisted Living Bill of Rights which outlines these rights. Staff review the HCBS rights annually which includes this right. Per policy, no restraints are used, and coercion is prohibited. Residents interviewed said that they never feel pressured to do things that they don’t want to do.	Compliant

This requirement was confirmed by administrative/direct care staff. Staff report that residents are free to make their own life choices and choose who they want to spend their time with. One staff said “It’s their life, not ours. They should make their own decisions about what affects them.” One resident interviewed said he was sort of a “homebody” and prefers to spend more time at home. He said he is invited to events but most of the time he doesn’t participate. He said, “It’s just not my thing.” Another resident interviewed said they prefer to go to as many activities as possible and she loves to stay busy. The resident handbook states: “Our assisted living model emphasizes maximizing the Resident’s independence, assistance, and choice. This means that Residents are encouraged to participate to the extent possible in all activities of daily living, to be full partners in the development of care plans and be empowered to make choices about how they will live. Benedict Court seeks to maximize each individual’s quality of life.”	Compliant
